HOUSE OVERRIDES TAX CUT BILL VETO

Greek Neighbors Accused By Acheson

CONGRESS TOLD OF EFFORTS TO INSTAL REDS

Testimony Revealed As House Committee Votes Funds To Block Communism

WASHINGTON, July 18—The three Soviet-dominated countries of Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria stood accused today by the state department of attempting to overthrow the Greek government and establish a Communist regime.

The blunt charge against Greece's northern neighbors was made by Dean Acheson, then undersecretary of state, in secret testimony before a house appropriations subcommittee just made public.

It came as fighting continued in the mountains of northern Greece between Greek military forces and guerrillas whom the Greek government charged came from Albania.

IMPRESSED by the testimony, the house appropriations committee took this action:

1. Granted in full the 400 million dollars requested by President Truman to combat the spread of Communism in the Mediterranean, 300 million dollars for Greece and 100 million for Turkey.
2. Denied the use of relief funds for Poland and Hungary, two Communist-dominated nations which declined to participate in the Marshall plan for the reconstruction of Europe, but approved 332 million dollars for food and other supplies to Austria.

UN DELEGATES OPEN DISCUSSION OF U. S. PLAN

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 18—General debate in the United Nations on "the Greek case," which has been going on intermittently for the last fortnight, was concluded before the security council shortly after noon today.

The council thereupon began a paragraph by paragraph discussion of a United States resolution calling for the establishment of a semi-permanent frontier commission in the Balkans.

Creation of such a commission by the U. N. would be for the purpose of restoring peace and normal relations between Greece, on one hand, and Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania, on the other.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

Now we know how the British four-year loan got used up in one. Lady Iris Mountbatten says it's common practise in London to be overdrawn.

She was surprised to find that a bouncing check brings speedy action—of course not quite as surprised as "bugsy" Siegel.

Police still are baffled by the Siegel slaying. He seems to have been immensely popular with all except whoever cancelled him.

But the law should not be too hard on the titled visitor. Probably she was reading those bank ads which say "no balance required—just pay us a nickel for each check."

Anyway Gov. Dewey's mother says she doesn't want Tom to become president—a sentiment she shares with thousands of Democrats.

Also supporters of Taft, Vandenberg, Stassen, MacArthur, Bricker, Warren, Eisenhower and Smo. Smo is the 1948 dark horse.

INTO THE OUTSTRETCHED ARMS of her uncle, Hirsch Greenbaum of Detroit, runs six-year-old Beila Rimmer, a war orphan. The tot, who arrived in New York aboard the S. S. Columbia, speaks only French which she learned from a family that hid her during the Nazi occupation. Her parents were deported to Poland by the Nazis.

House Committee Reports Out Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON, July 18—The house appropriations committee today approved $1,353,024,900 in funds for foreign relief, including the full 400 million dollars requested by President Truman for the Greco-Turkish aid program.

The committee reported to the house the final major appropriation bill of this session, which is slated to adjourn July 26.

- THE BILL contains:
1. Three hundred million dollars for Greece and 100 million dollars for Turkey.
 2. Three hundred and thirty two million dollars for the relief of war-devastated Austria, Greece, Trieste, Italy and China.
 3. Five hundred and fifty million dollars for military government and relief in Germany, Austria, Japan and Korea. The administration had requested 725 million.

4. Seventy-one million twenty-four thousand dollars for American participation in the international refugee organization. The administration had requested seventy three and one half million.

The committee also took these actions:

1. Authorized Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to use such funds as were necessary to eradicate the foot and mouth disease in Mexico.
2. Failed to appropriate the twenty four million 900 thousand dollars requested by the administration.

WALLACE BOOM FOR PRESIDENT READY TO OPEN

FRESNO, CAL., July 18—A meeting aimed at formally raising the presidential banner of Henry A. Wallace gets underway at Fresno, Cal., tomorrow.

The gathering, which some observers say may split the Democratic party in California, will be the first attempt in the nation to place the former vice president's name on next year's primary election ballot. It was called by former state attorney general Robert W. Kenny.

Kenny, arriving from Southern California, was preceded by a band of men conspicuously wearing blue and white campaign buttons reading "Wallace '48."

GOP BLOCKED

WASHINGTON, July 18—A "little filibuster" today endangered chances of Sen. Kern (R) Mo., to get a senate investigation of his charges that Attorney General Tom Clark "whitewashed" Kansas City vote fraud complaints. With time narrowing and a backlog of "must" legislation pressing for action, there were indications that Democratic opponents may succeed in leaving the proposal pigeonholed in the senate judiciary committee.

BRITISH BATTLE JEW'S ABOARD IMMIGRANT SHIP

One Man Reported Killed, Several Injured In Fight At Sea

JERUSALEM, July 18—A British flotilla of five destroyers and a cruiser shoved an illegal Jewish immigrant ship into Haifa harbor today at the end of a dramatic sea battle which cost one life and scores of injuries.

The ship was the 1,814-ton "European Exodus, 1947", formerly the American steamer President Garfield that was registered in Baltimore.

British destroyers intercepted the immigrant ship 17 miles off the coast of southern Palestine and sailors boarded it in the face of tear-gas, smoke-bombs and jets of steam while Jewish organizations raised the cry of "piracy."

FOR AT LEAST an hour following the leaking vessel's enforced arrival at Haifa, the 4,554 refugees aboard the largest single group that ever tried to break the British blockade against illegal immigrants—vigorously resisted disembarkation.

In a wireless message picked up by the Jewish underground army Haganah before, during or after the clash at sea, the ship's master reported his ship was "leaking" and requested aid in reaching Haifa.

When the destroyers overtook him, he made a vain attempt to beach his craft. The former President Garfield, built in 1928, flew blue and white Jewish flags when she ended her tempestuous voyage prodded by British warships at Haifa.

INITIAL REPORTS said one Jewish passenger was killed and 125 injured, 25 of them seriously, in the sea battle. Three British sailors were injured badly enough to need hospitalization.

Haganah called on the United Nations commission investigating Palestine to probe what it termed the British "piracy" and called for definite measures to prevent deportation of the liner's human cargo.

The Guatemalan delegate on the commission immediately demanded that an emergency meeting be held tonight to investigate the matter. First reports said that both the immigrant ship and two British destroyers sustained damage in the high seas battle.

INSPECTION FAVORED

WASHINGTON, July 18—The house labor committee today approved a resolution requiring four inspections of the nation's coal mines annually and direct reports to the federal bureau of mines.

Rudolph Hess Returns To Berlin As Prisoner

BERLIN, July 18—Rudolph Hess came back today to the Berlin where he once ruled almost supreme—and was presented with a sullen gray uniform and an identification number at grim old Spandau prison.

With six other Nazi war criminals who were sentenced to long terms by the Nuremberg war crimes tribunal, Hess was flown into bomb-battered Berlin and taken immediately to the jail which in the last few months has been repaired of its own bomb damage.

Hess, deputy leader of the

QUICK ACTION ON NLRB SEEN

Senate Slated To Start Hearings On Members Early Next Week

WASHINGTON, July 18—Swift senate action was forecast today on the appointment of three officials by President Truman to key jobs in the national labor relations board's administration of the new Taft-Hartley law.

The senate labor committee is expected to start hearings early next week on confirmation of former Democratic senator Abe Murdock of Utah and J. Copeland Gray, Buffalo industrial relations expert, to be NLRB members and Robert N. Denham to be NLRB general counsel.

THE HEARINGS probably will be brief in view of the congressional drive for adjournment. Immediate senate reaction favored the selection of Murdock but few senators were acquainted with the other nominees.

Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, asserted that "the President has named a fine board." He added:

"I am especially happy over the appointment of former senator Murdock. His experience in the house regarding the national labor relations act is unequalled and his views in the senate gave him great familiarity with the work done by the NLRB."

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, labor committee chairman, declined to comment on the appointments.

OVERSTOCKING OF OHIO LIQUOR SUPPLY CHARGED

Dunifon's Disclosures Open Way For Possible Criminal Probe

COLUMBUS, O., July 18—State Liquor Director Dale Dunifon charged today that Ohio's liquor inventory had been over-loaded by 24 million dollars and opened the way for possible criminal investigation of the alleged overstocking.

Governor Herbert's ace trouble-shooting director disclosed at a special news conference that he also would blacklist dealers and distillers who refuse to cooperate with the state in getting rid of excess stocks of slow-moving items.

A supply analysis of present inventories revealed estimates by Dunifon's aides showing that the department had, for example, a stock of Old Barter bourbon whiskey figured to last at the present rate of sale for 5,329 weeks or more than 100 years.

that all the factual information he had gathered would be turned over to Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins and to the prosecuting attorney of Franklin county. He refused to guess whether criminal negligence had entered into the overpurchases of some brands and types of liquors.

He pointed out that turning over of the information at his disposal to the attorney general and the prosecutor conformed with the special senate liquor investigating committee's recommendation for a full grand jury investigation of the department.

In his lengthy news conference, the liquor director distributed to newsmen voluminous tables of statistics and photographs of department records to illustrate his points.

Of his threat to blacklist uncooperative dealers and distributors, Dunifon declared:

"As for those not willing to take back items of make satisfactory adjustments, nothing will be bought from those companies regardless of the brand or the company."

12 FAMILIES IN FLOOD AREA GET RED CROSS AID

W. L. Sprouse, chairman, Pickaway county chapter, American Red Cross, announced Friday that personnel of the local chapter and L. L. Mishey, field representative from national headquarters, are proceeding rapidly with relief work in the flooded areas. Assistance is being given on the basis of need, not losses.

Twelve families have registered for Red Cross assistance. Any families having disaster caused needs and needing assistance in rehabilitating themselves beyond their own resources may apply at the Red Cross office.

An emergency meeting of the executive committee was called Thursday night at which time the members of the committee voted to finance the entire relief operation from local chapter funds.

The executive committee wishes to express appreciation to the production crops who responded so efficiently to the call for making up sheets and pillow cases to be used for the disaster stricken families.

In another offer of assistance, Harold E. Sharpe said residents of the area near where the Hargus creek bridge was washed out may park their autos in his used car lot and thus avoid long detours. It is possible to cross the creek by foot but not in vehicles until a temporary bridge is erected.

He Was Duped?

APPEARING before the Senate Steel Committee in Washington, R. A. Ascher (above), a New York broker, declared he was duped into making a $3500 deposit in a "grey market" deal in steel. He accused another broker of producing an unauthorized letter, purportedly from a Surplus War Property official, which was supposed to "confirm" an order by the broker for 10,000 tons of scarce steel.

SOLON EXPECTS 'SHOOTING WAR'

Eaton Says U. S. Must Be Ready To Send Troops To Take Over Greece

WASHINGTON, July 18—Rep. Eaton (R) N. J., chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, declared today that we are "within sight of a shooting war in Greece." He added:

"We must be prepared to send our Army and Navy over there and take control if the Greek government is unable to halt the fighting that is now going on."

THE declaration by the Republican leader that the United States must be prepared for an armed conflict in Greece, if necessary, followed in the wake of a warning he gave the house rules committee that "we are within sight of a shooting war in Greece."

EATON ADVISED the rules committee that "if we move out, Russia will move in."

He subsequently told a reporter that "if it becomes necessary we'll have to send our Army and Navy over to Greece and take over."

He added:

"How can we carry out our proposal to rehabilitate Greece unless we have an end to the shooting war that is now going on?"

EATON told the rules committee during consideration of a resolution to authorize a house investigation of foreign spending by this country that "Russia has taken off its mask at last."

LESS BUYING IN U. S. PLANNED BY CANADIANS

OTTAWA, Ont., July 18—Canada embarked today on a foreign trade program which will include less buying in the United States and more in the "sterling countries."

Trade minister James Mackinnon told the house of commons that the adverse trade balance with the United States is necessitated by the fact that the deficit in trade with the U. S. in the first four months this year was $303,000,000 and "mounting rapidly."

Mackinnon said he was "gravely concerned." He admitted the only way to stop Canadians from buying American goods would be to erect new tariff barriers.

Earlier finance minister Douglas Abbott denied there was any plan to devalue the Canadian dollar, now officially at par with the U. S. dollar.

TRUMAN HINTS RUSSIAN FEAR BLOCKS SLASH

President Says Reduction Now Would Lead To Higher Prices

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, July 18—Senate Republicans conceded defeat in advance today on President Truman's second tax cut veto after the house overrode the chief executive's rejection of the GOP bill.

WASHINGTON, July 18—The house today overrode President Truman's second veto of the tax reduction bill, 299 to 108, a margin of 27 votes over the necessary two-thirds majority.

The four billion dollar tax slash measure then went to the senate, where a vote sustaining the veto by a slim margin is expected later this afternoon.

In rejecting the four billion dollar GOP tax cut the President told congress by strong inference that Russian refusal to cooperate for world stability makes such a reduction in government income risky and unwise.

The chief executive asserted also that the measure is "still the wrong kind of tax reduction at the wrong time."

OBVIOUSLY referring to the cold attitude of the Soviet Union and its satellites toward the Marshall plan for European recovery, Mr. Truman said:

"The recent refusal of certain nations to join in common endeavors to establish conditions of world stability increases the (Continued on Page Two)

DEWEY CARRIES CAMPAIGN INTO HEART OF WEST

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont., June 18—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York carried his co-called non-political campaign for 1948 Republican convention delegates into the heart of the West today. And as he did, Dewey supporters said they were convinced the chief threat to his renomination as a presidential candidate lay in a potential Democratic party split.

Some Republican leaders told Dewey that creation of a third party spearheaded by ex-vice president Wallace, would enhance the chances of Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

The New York chief executive was informed he was not overly popular with some party leaders, but that even his most bitter GOP enemies admitted he was a vote getter.

As Dewey arrived in West Yellowstone, Mont., for a three-day tour of Yellowstone national park, reports were current of a boom for Eric Johnston, czar of the motion picture industry, for the 1948 GOP vice-presidential nomination.

Johnston, former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, is friendly with Dewey. As a voting resident of the state of Washington, Johnston would add geographical balance to the Dewey-headed ticket.

'COOL' WEATHER DUE TO ARRIVE HERE SATURDAY

By International News Service
Ohioans can stop wiping their brows today and cross their fingers instead—the weatherman says it is going to be cooler tomorrow.

Of course, there first will be thundershowers this afternoon and tonight. Then, according to forecasters, the muggy southeast wind will shift to northwest, which is a much dryer and cooler place for the air to come from.

A high range of between 85 and 90 degrees was predicted for this afternoon, with a drop of between 65 and 70 degrees, tonight. The range tomorrow will be between 80 and 85 degrees, with much less humidity than during the last five days or more.

difficulty of our task and exposes us to greater risk.

"Until we are better able to estimate the cost of our investment in world peace and collective security, it is unwise to make so large a cut in our government's future income that our ability to meet our needs would be impaired."

THE PRESIDENT declared that "there is still no convincing evidence that a recession is imminent," but argued that tax reduction now would "delay the readjustments of prices and wages" necessary to maintain high prosperity.

He insisted that a tax slash would increase the danger of recession and lead to higher prices for consumer goods.

Today's message largely reiterated the reasons for the veto contained in the first message. The President said that, if anything, the reasons that impelled him to veto the first tax reduction bill "are more compelling now than they were one month ago."

He said the bill is "unsound and unsafe."

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE, who last month rejected a bill which would have made tax slashes effective July 1, declared in his second tax veto message to congress that the new measure, which would bring the reductions next Jan. 1, is "not consistent with sound fiscal policy."

The senate is expected to sustain the President, killing any chance of tax reduction during the present session of congress.

Mr. Truman declared in his veto message:

"While business, employment and national income continue high, we should maintain tax revenues at level that will meet current expenditures and also leave a surplus for retirement of the public debt."

The President said that he is "unequivocally committed to the right kind of tax reduction at the right time."

But he added that such reduction must be based on a careful consideration of the whole tax structure in its relation to a balanced budget and adequate debt retirement.

AIR COLLISION NEAR WAUSEON KILLS COUPLE

WAUSEON, O., July 18 — An engaged couple met instant death but three Army flyers miraculously escaped serious injury today when an Army P-61 Black Widow collided 2,300 feet in the air with a light civilian plane and sent it crashing to the ground two and a half miles northwest of Wauseon.

The pilot of the civilian craft was identified as Walter W. Hyde, Jr., 23, Wellington, O., owner of the plane. His fiancée was Joanne Brouse, Wellington.

The two victims had left Wellington for a weekend trip to the Michigan lake region a short time before the smashed ship and the two bodies were found on the farm of Peter Goldsmith. Two feet had been clipped from the wing of the light craft by the speeding Army night fighter.

EINSTEIN SAYS WORLD SETUP CAN KEEP PEACE

NEW YORK, July 18 — Prof. Albert Einstein has told the American people once again that there is no defense against modern weapons of war, and that only a world government can guarantee peace.

The famous mathematician said on a nationwide broadcast last night that the United Nations must be transformed into a vetoless world government responsible only to the world's voters, and no longer controlled by national governments.

As a first step, he recommended support of resolutions introduced in congress last week which call upon President Truman to strengthen the United Nations so it can have power to enact, interpret and enforce world law.

Prof. Einstein said that Russia's hatred of foreigners and her policy of isolationism is a problem.

HUNGARY and Poland, the only Communist-dominated countries listed for relief assistance, were not mentioned by name, but it was learned that the eighteen million dollars eliminated had been tentatively allocated by the state department for use in those countries, three million dollars in Hungary and fifteen million dollars in Poland.

The committee merely referred to them as "certain countries" and said it was deleting the amount because they "have not shown a disposition to comply" with the requirements for American distribution of relief supplies.

Acheson informed the subcommittee that the already-troubled internal Greek situation existing at the close of the war "is now very much accentuated by the fact that Greece's northern neighbors, all of which are Communist controlled, began to exercise pressure on Greece looking toward the overthrow of the Greek government and the establishment of a Communist regime in Greece."

ACHESON testified three weeks ago, shortly before he left the state department to reenter private law practice.

Former President Herbert Hoover told the subcommittee during separate testimony that the present Russian attitude is "the stumbling block of all Europe."

The testimony of the former undersecretary of state and ex-president was given during consideration of one and one half billion dollars in funds for the Greco-Turkish aid program, relief to war-devastated countries, and Army occupation needs.

BALLISTICS MAY PROVE CAUSE OF PAXTON DEATH

Murder Or Suicide Verdict Depends On Bullet, Officials Say

Science of ballistics may prove whether Noah Vernon Paxton, 22-year-old Pickaway county farmhand and World War II veteran killed himself or was murdered.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff disclosed Friday that the checking of all clues had failed to provide the solution to the riddle of Mr. Paxton's death. He said he was awaiting the results of a ballistics test made at the Columbus police laboratory after the sheriff took to the experts there the 22-caliber bullet which was removed from Mr. Paxton's head during an autopsy ordered by Coroner Lloyd Jones.

The science of ballistics is aimed, primarily, to identify the specific weapon from which any particular bullet has been fired. It has served to convict scores of murderers.

PENDING THE completion of the sheriff's investigation—which includes the ballistics test—Coroner Jones has withheld a formal verdict in the case of Mr. Paxton.

The body of Mr. Paxton was discovered near midnight July 10 slumped in the front seat of his auto parked at the edge of a township road four miles north-east of Circleville in the area known as the "Devil's Backbone."

A 22-caliber rifle, containing one discharged cartridge shell and clutched by one of the victim's hands, was resting on Mr. Paxton's lap. In a glove compartment of the car Deputy Sheriff Carl Radcliff found a 22-caliber seven-shot revolver. It contained one live cartridge and the firing pin rested on a discharged shell.

County Prosecutor Kenneth Robbins said: "It looks like suicide."

FLYING NEEDLES

Alice Wickline was hostess for the regular meeting of Darby Flying Needles 4-H club. All members of the club answered roll call. Report was given on dairy requirements for good health. SEW STRAIGHT

Circle Sew Straight 4-H club met in the home of Bette Wilson, with one member absent out of a total membership of 16. One guest was present. Meeting opened with the group singing "Tell Me Why". Dona Jean Kerns was in charge of devotions. Group repeated the pledge of allegiance to the flag. After the business cers found no suicide note and no suicide motive has been found.

If he committed suicide he must have used the rifle because he would not have had time to replace the revolver in the glove compartment.

The ballistics test, Sheriff Radcliff said, is expected to show whether the bullet which killed Mr. Paxton was fired from the rifle.

If the test fails to show this it will be almost certain proof that Mr. Paxton was slain and that he did not commit suicide.

Roy Paxton, brother of Mr. Paxton, said Friday that published reports that he and Mr. Paxton's wife, Mrs. Mary Paxton, were driving home when they found the body, was incorrect. The information contained in The Herald articles was obtained chiefly from the sheriff's department.

MORE INTEREST IN BOYS URGED IN ROTARY TALK

Plea for greater interest in the welfare of boys was voiced by Pat McGuire, Columbus, one time Pickaway county school teacher, who told members of the Rotary club following a noon luncheon, Thursday in the Pickaway Arms, that home environment is the biggest thing in the life of a boy.

Backed by 30 years of experience working with boys, the speaker declared that adults should strive to keep "boy level" ideas, that among millions of boys in the nation no two are exactly alike, and that fathers should be "pals" to their sons.

McGuire said that more than 330,000 American boys are now enrolled in boys' clubs throughout the country. He said that boys should be "taught and not frightened."

DOCUMENTS OF FREEDOM

THE SO-CALLED "Freedom Train" will start on its long journey of a year or more through all the 48 states of the Union on September 17, 1947, in Philadelphia. It is appropriate that the start be made in that city, which was the seat of government when some of the most famous of the papers to be shown were written.

Many of the important documents of our great heritage will be on the train for all to see. Needless to say, every possible measure is being taken to keep them safe. It is the chance of a lifetime for citizens and their children to see with their own eyes such documents as the Declaration of Independence, a copy of the Constitution with notes by George Washington, the Emancipation Proclamation and others illustrating the development of freedom through our history as a nation.

The exact plans for the trip have not yet been finally decided, but they will be announced in plenty of time for all to know about them. In fact, motion picture trailers will go through the towns a few weeks in advance of the train. A powerful documentary film highlighting the American heritage will be shown in all theatres.

It is not only an opportunity to see the papers, but also for America to rededicate itself, through the resolution of every individual citizen, to the strong purpose of maintaining our freedom and of helping to extend such privileges as we possess to all nations of the world.

EDEN SINGS OUT

PREDICTING that funds lent by the United States and Canada would run out by the end of the year, Anthony Eden, speaking in the House of Commons recently, said that when that happened Britain's only recourse would be their gold reserve. As to the Marshall plan he had this to say: "If this offer should encourage continuation of our present wholly artificial basis for refusing to face the facts, then the breathing space it may give us will prove to be rather less than a blessing. We cannot afford to become the permanent pensioners of the U. S. A. We have a role of our own to play as a great empire."

These words have a fine, ringing sound, in the midst of all the hedging, the backing and filling, and the bristling truculence of some European leaders. Eden's speech represents the true spirit of Britain. Independence and self-reliance, along with a fighting spirit, have brought the right little, tight little island through many bad times, and may be counted on to bring it through this one.

There are too many citizens in this country who think they have a divine right to exercise a veto on everything they don't like.

Home to see the village in a great downpour of rain. As I remembered it. Noted the block-off of Lancaster pike and learned of a torrent taking out the Hargus creek bridge and other great damage including a fatality charged to the weather. Phone ringing as I entered the house. Jim Stout extending greetings. George came up and told how the rains have played heck with things about the farm.

A full day of travel from Windsor. Stopped only briefly at customs. "Buy anything in Canada?" was the greeting. "Nothing except an appendicitis operation," was the reply. "No duty, go ahead," and that was that. Skirted Detroit out past the River Rouge plant, did an end run around Toledo and on to Fostoria for lunch. Came back 23 for I wished to see Upper Sandusky again in the summertime. The ones who laid out that village really had an eye to beauty and the future. Great parkways on each side of the streets, houses far back and well apart. In my opinion one of the prettiest small towns in America.

Then through Delaware, Worthington, Columbus and straight south. The closer I got to home the safer I felt. Had intended staying another day or two in Toronto, but Monday night came a storm, lightning hit the hotel and put the elevators out of commission. After climbing seven flights of stairs just once did call the clerk and ask that the bags be taken down. We were checking out.

Canada is behind now for another year. Canada and its jammed hotels, its terrible food, its stumpy water that the Canadians insist is coffee, Canada and its great fishing waters, its great forests, its superb vacation spots. Right now I have no desire to go back, but I know that come another Spring the region will call me once more.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, July 18—Union big man John Lewis' new coal economy for another bigger round of prices and wage increases seems to have some economic relation to a new brand of socialism advocated by the AFL economic survey for July. The survey howls in top headline: "high prices threaten workers' jobs and living standards." Then at the end it furnishes what it calls "the way out."

The way out, says the AFL, is "consumer cooperation" and it adds: "consumer cooperation means cooperative ownership of a business. Every member is a part-owner. . . We must start at once to organize as consumers. . . We cannot afford to wait. . . Write the federation for information on cooperatives and credit unions and names of official representatives of these two movements to advise you."

Now let's see. Let's understand this. Consumer cooperation is cooperative ownership of a business, eh? That, of course, is Socialism. Moreover it is a different advanced type of Socialism than that which the British unions have imposed on Britain. The British government bought the business there with government bonds, and as is the normal case when the government owns anything, no one owns it. A union member would find this out if he tried to get his share of the business.

This new AFL Socialism is not state Socialism but union ownership. The unions start factories for shoes, clothing or even automobiles, maybe. Immediately this breaks its own union monopoly of the work in the privately owned shoe, clothing or automobile factory. In work and price then, AFL would compete with its own members, for the purpose of underselling them and making their business unprofitable. If AFL was successful, their members would lose the private ownership jobs they have now.

Now the high prices of which they complain are certainly too high. But one reason they are high is because AFL has forced greater wage increases on the management (really the public) every year for the last few years. Every wage increase they got forced another price increase. They have discovered that due to the high prices they have caused, the union worker frequently is really no better off economically than before wage increases. So now AFL comes up with a plan to own the business. Lewis of course has just increased costs and prices again by an inestimable hundreds of millions of dollars a year with his latest jump of 45 cents an hour, plus a private union tax of 10 cents on every ton of coal, and many more privileges. If Lewis succeeds in making the coal business unprofitable, he could really buy it cheap, because no one would want it. But instead of the miners getting more money, then they would get much less because their business made no money.

When the union government got the businesses in England, the first thing they did was to up wages again. This increased prices again. But still they could not get production. Socialist England had to borrow money from us and now is trying to borrow more to buy from us things she should be producing for herself. One such thing is coal. She has plenty underground but her Socialism will not produce it at the low price which the Socialists are always promising but never get.

AFL does not want this. AFL knows this clearly would cause reduction in wages and

DIET AND HEALTH

Don't Neglect Kidney Trouble

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
THE work of the kidneys is so important to the whole body that no disorder affecting them can be safely neglected.

One of the most common of such conditions and one which can occur at any age is pyelitis, or inflammation of that part of the kidney where the urine collects before it empties into the bladder.

How Germs Are Carried
Germs causing the inflammation may be brought to the kidney from some other part of the body through the blood stream or they may pass upwards from the bladder. But in either case, according to Dr. Joseph C. Birdsall of Philadelphia, they do not usually become entrenched in the kidney itself unless there is some blocking in the urinary tract, that is, either in the bladder or in the tubes which lead to it from the kidneys.

A diagnosis of pyelitis is made by such symptoms as a burning sensation when the bladder is emptied, and frequent emptying of the bladder. Fever is often present. An examination of the urine shows the presence of many white blood cells.

Any Age
Pyelitis may occur in persons of any age. It is more frequent in girls than in boys. In such cases, the disorder usually starts with chills and fever, and the temperature may go as high as 102 to 106 degrees. Sickness to the stomach and vomiting are often present. Constipation or diarrhea may also occur in older children.

In adults, when pyelitis occurs,

there usually is some inflammation also of other parts of the kidney. This condition tends to occur especially during pregnancy or during child-bearing time.

Complete Rest

In treating pyelitis, the patient should be put to bed at complete rest and given a diet containing no highly seasoned foods. He should be given plenty of fluids by mouth, and if necessary the fluids may be injected under the skin. Constipation, if present, should be corrected. Frequent emptying of the bladder and sweating should also be encouraged. Hot, wet packs and the use of aspirin are helpful, according to Dr. Birdsall.

A search should be made for any infection in the teeth, tonsils or sinuses, and such infections, if found, should be cleared up since they may be contributing causes for the pyelitis.

Various Drugs

Various drugs may be used to overcome pyelitis, depending upon the type of germ producing the difficulty. For example, mandelic acid is used for bacilli or infection due to bacilli. Sulfonamide drugs and penicillin are helpful in those infections which are produced by streptococci and staphylococci.

An X-ray examination may be made to determine if there is some blocking of the flow of the urine due to a kidney stone or other cause. If such a condition is found, operative treatment may be required to get rid of it. If it is not treated promptly and thoroughly, pyelitis is likely to recur and may become a chronic or long continued disorder.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

ALONG THE path from the house came Sir Henry Angkatell and Midge Hardcastle, talking and laughing together.

At the sight of the group around the pool, Sir Henry stopped short, and exclaimed in astonishment: "What's the matter? What's happened?"

His wife answered, "Gerda has—she broke off sharply. 'I mean—John is—'"

Gerda said in her flat, bewildered voice: "John has been shot . . . he's dead."

They all looked away from her, embarrassed. Then Lady Angkatell said quickly:

"My dear, I think you'd better go—and lie down. . . Perhaps we had better all go back to the house. Henry, you and M. Poirot can stay here and—wait for the police."

"That will be the best plan, I think," said Sir Henry. He turned to Gudgeon. "Will you ring up the police station, Gudgeon? Just state exactly what has occurred. When the police arrive, bring them straight out here."

Gudgeon bent his head a little and said, "Yes, Sir Henry." He was looking a little white about the gills, but he was still the perfect servant.

The tall young woman said, "Come, Gerda," and putting her hand through the other woman's arm, she led her unresistingly away and along the path toward the house. Gerda walked as though in a dream. Gudgeon stood back a little to let them pass and then followed, carrying the basket of eggs.

Sir Henry turned sharply to his wife.

"Now, Lucy, what is all this? What happened exactly?"

Lady Angkatell stretched out vague hands, a lovely helpless gesture. Hercule Poirot felt the charm of it and the appeal.

"My dear, I hardly know. . . I was down by the hens. I heard a shot that seemed very near, but I didn't really think anything about it. After all," she appealed to them all, "one doesn't! And then I came up the path to the pool and there was John lying there and Gerda standing over him with the revolver. Henrietta and Edward arrived almost at the same moment—over the fence."

She nodded toward the farther side of the pool, where two paths ran up into the woods.

Hercule Poirot cleared his throat. "Who were they, this John and this Gerda? If I may know," he added apologetically.

"Oh, of course," Lady Angkatell turned to him in quick apology. "One forgets—but then one doesn't exactly introduce people—not when somebody has just been killed. John is John Christow, Dr. Christow. Gerda Christow is his wife."

"And the lady who went with Mrs. Christow to the house?"

"My cousin, Henrietta Savernake."

There was a movement, a very faint movement from the man on Poirot's left.

Henrietta Savernake, thought Poirot, and he does not like that she should say it—but it is, after all, inevitable that I should know. ("Henrietta!" the dying man had said. He had said it in a very curious way. A way that reminded Poirot of something—of some incident . . . now, what was it? No matter, it would come to him.) Lady Angkatell was going on, determined now on fulfilling her social duties.

"And this is another cousin of ours, Edward Angkatell. And Miss Hardcastle."

Poirot acknowledged the introductions with polite bows. Midge felt suddenly that she wanted to laugh hysterically; she controlled herself with an effort.

"And now, my dear," said Sir Henry, "you had better go back to the house. . . I will have a word or two here with M. Poirot."

Lady Angkatell looked thoughtfully at them.

"I do hope," she said, "that Gerda is lying down. Was that the right thing to suggest? I really couldn't think what to say. I mean, one has no precedent."

What does one say to a woman who has just killed her husband? She looked at them as though hoping that some authoritative answer might be given to her question.

Then she went along the path toward the house. Midge followed her. Edward brought up the rear. Poirot was left with his host.

Sir Henry cleared his throat. He seemed a little uncertain what to say.

"Christow," he observed at last, "was a very able fellow—a very able fellow."

Poirot's eyes rested once more on the dead man. He still had the curious impression that the dead man was more alive than the living.

He wondered what gave him that impression.

He responded politely to Sir Henry: "Such a tragedy as this is very unfortunate," he said.

"This sort of thing is more in your line than mine," said Sir Henry. "I don't think I have ever been at close quarters with a murderer before. I hope I've done the right thing so far."

"The procedure has been quite correct," said Poirot. "You have summoned the police, and until they arrive and take charge, there is nothing for us to do—except to make sure that nobody disturbs the body or tampers with the evidence."

As he said the last word he looked down into the pool where he could see the revolver lying on the concrete bottom slightly distorted by the blue water.

The evidence, he thought, had perhaps already been tampered with before he, Hercule Poirot, had been able to prevent it.

But no—that had been an accident. Sir Henry murmured distastefully: "Think we've got to stand about? A bit chilly. It would be all right, I should think, if we went inside the pavilion."

Poirot, who had been conscious of damp feet and a disposition to shiver, acquiesced gladly. The pavilion was at the side of the pool farthest from the house and through its open door they commanded a view of the pool and the body and the path to the house along which the police would come.

The pavilion was luxuriously furnished with comfortable settees and gay native rugs. On a painted iron table a tray was set with "You know, Midge, I still feel one ought to do something about lunch. . . It seems, of course, quite heartless to sit down around the table as though nothing had happened. But after all, M. Poirot was asked to lunch—and he is probably hungry. And it can't be upsetting to him that poor John Christow has been killed, like it is to us. . . And I must say that though I really do not feel like eating myself, Henry and Edward must be extremely hungry after being out shooting all the morning."

Edward Angkatell said, "Don't worry on my account, Lucy dear. You are always considerate. Edward. And then there is David—I noticed that he ate a great deal at dinner last night. Intellectual people always seem to need a good deal of food. Where is David, by the way?"

"He went up to his room," said Midge, "after he had heard what had happened."

"Yes—well, that was rather tactful of him. I daresay it made him feel awkward."

STARS SAY—

For Friday, July 18

A MOST welcome and satisfactory culmination to ambitious programs, well on the way to success and brilliant achievement, is noted from this day's lunar and solar aspects. Under this propitious stimulus it would be well to concentrate all the energies, resources, funds and abilities on the most lofty objectives, since the substantial collaboration of those in influential positions may be counted upon. Work decisively and intelligently toward the happy ending.

Those whose birthday it is are encouraged to frame their plans, techniques, abilities and ambitions, along important and expansive lines, since there is the assurance of required assistance and cooperation from those in high places. The outcome to this concentrated effort is bound to have reaction on the personal life, its happiness, and prestige, with implications of romance and domestic festivities or celebrations. Aim at high goals of accomplishment and felicitous denouements in all relations.

A child born on this day should be well equipped for an ambitious and joyous career, with honors, prestige and personal happiness.

An Anchorite is a recluse, or retired man, the word originating from the Greek. It literally is a person who withdraws from society; a hermit. The name was applied to those hermits who began to appear in the Christian church in the third century, living in solitude and not, like the monks or cenobites, in communities.

ST. LOUIS, July 18 — The St. Louis Browns, buried in eighth place in the American League standings, grabbed top position in the sports news today by signing two Negroes and obtaining a 30-day option on a third.

The Browns thus virtually completed smashing the color line which has barred members of the colored race from the major leagues of the national pastime.

The line was first breached when Jackie Robinson took over first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League. Then less than two weeks ago the Cleveland Indians of the junior circuit signed Larry Doby from the Newark, N. J., Negro Eagles.

The two Negro stars signed by the St. Louis Americans were Willard Brown and youthful Henry Thompson, a second baseman, both of the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro National League.

Mt. Sterling Youth Hurt In Auto Accident Shooting Victim

ROBERT WITTICH DIES OF BULLET WOUND IN HEAD

Boy Was To Undergo Surgery As Aftermath Of Car Crash Last Winter

Funeral arrangements instead of surgery preparations were being made Friday for Robert Wittich, 17, Mt. Sterling.

The youth was to have entered a Columbus hospital, Friday, to undergo an operation to relieve the results of a head injury he sustained last November in an automobile accident in which a friend was killed.

Robert succumbed Thursday night in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, to a bullet wound in his head suffered accidentally Thursday afternoon at the farm home of his uncle Tom Reed, on Deer creek, south of Mt. Sterling near the Franklin-Madison county line.

Dr. John H. Richardson, acting coroner of Franklin county, returned late Thursday night a formal verdict of death by accident. The acting coroner announced that an investigation had disclosed that the youth had been target shooting with friends, that he went into the house alone to get a drink of water, that he was shot accidentally, and that there were no eye witnesses to the shooting.

THE BODY was removed to the E. T. Snyder funeral home at Mt. Sterling where funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Thursday's fatal shooting of Robert was a tragic aftermath of a traffic accident eight months ago on State Route 277, four miles south of Mt. Sterling, when he and five friends were speeding in an auto to the scene of a fire. Robert was seriously injured in the crash which took the life of Ross McKinley Looftburrow, 17, and inflicted serious injuries on Harold Reay, 17, both of Mt. Sterling.

A few seconds after Robert walked into his uncle's cottage Thursday, his companions heard a pistol shot. Robert staggered through a rear doorway and collapsed. He was removed to the hospital at Columbus but attempts to save his life were futile.

Survivors include his father, Roderick Wittich, Sr., one sister, and two brothers.

KING OF HOBOES TO HELP FIGHT NEW LABOR LAW

TOLEDO, O., July 18 — Foes of the Taft-Hartley labor law got a vigorous assist today from Jeff Davis, king of Hoboes of America, Inc.

The colorful knight of the road told more than 400 members of the Toledo central labor union last night that "we of labor have to talk more about our friends and our cause and always patronize organized markets." He added:

"If you won't do it then the hobo will go to bat for you because if the government sues us, what can they get we haven't got anything."

"But don't forget, if government expects to regulate labor through the Taft-Hartley law, then that same government should be able to regulate our food prices with other legislation."

Davis recounted his 47 years in labor and, pointing to his bald head, said it was acquired from "hired thugs who tried to break up my union."

Davis declared that "the world conference of hobo was held in the house of parliament in London in 1938. Surely, if a bunch of bums can gather in parliament, you labor people can win your fight against the Taft-Hartley labor law."

1,000 FEDERAL WORKERS OUSTED FOR DISLOYALTY

WASHINGTON, July 18 — A civil service commission report showed today that 223 federal workers have been fired and possibly more than 1,000 others have been either cut loose or forced out on disloyalty charges in the nine-month period ending April 1.

The report, submitted to the house civil service committee, said a partial survey of government agencies revealed the 223 known ousters and said the final figure for the period may be upward of 1,000.

The actual firings took place in six agencies—war, navy, agriculture, commerce, labor and the veterans administration.

The committee was informed that 190 persons found disloyal were civilian employees of the Army, in one of four military areas. The commission said that the Army had furnished only partial information and suggested that to arrive at a representative figure for disloyal employees of the war department, the 190 figure should be multiplied by four.

HOUSE OVERRIDES TAX CUT BILL VETO

Greek Neighbors Accused By Acheson

CONGRESS TOLD OF EFFORTS TO INSTAL REDS

Testimony Revealed As House Committee Votes Funds To Block Communism

WASHINGTON, July 18—The three Soviet-dominated countries of Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria stood accused today by the state department of attempting to overthrow the Greek government and establish a Communist regime.

The blunt charge against Greece's northern neighbors was made by Dean Acheson, then undersecretary of state, in secret testimony before a house appropriations subcommittee just made public.

It came as fighting continued in the mountains of northern Greece between Greek military forces and guerrillas whom the Greek government charged came from Albania.

IMPRESSED by the testimony, the house appropriations committee took this action:

1. Granted in full the 400 million dollars requested by President Truman to combat the spread of Communism in the Mediterranean, 300 million dollars for Greece and 100 million for Turkey.
2. Denied the use of relief funds for Poland and Hungary, two Communist-dominated nations which declined to participate in the Marshall plan for the reconstruction of Europe, but approved 332 million dollars for food and other supplies to Austria.

UN DELEGATES OPEN DISCUSSION OF U. S. PLAN

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 18—General debate in the United Nations on "the Greek case," which has been going on intermittently for the last fortnight, was concluded before the security council shortly after noon today.

The council thereupon began a paragraph by paragraph discussion of a United States resolution calling for the establishment of a semi-permanent frontier commission in the Balkans.

Creation of such a commission by the U. N. would be for the purpose of restoring peace and normal relations between Greece, on one hand, and Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania, on the other.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

Now we know how the British four-year loan got used up in one. Lady Iris Mountbatten says it's common practise in London to be overdrawn.

She was surprised to find that a bouncing check brings speedy action—of course not quite as surprised as "bugsy" Siegel.

Police still are baffled by the Siegel slaying. He seems to have been immensely popular with all except whoever cancelled him.

But the law should not be too hard on the titled visitor. Probably she was reading those bank ads which say "no balance required—just pay us a nickel for each check."

Any Gov. Dewey's mother says she doesn't want Tom to become president—a sentiment she shares with thousands of Democrats.

Also supporters of Taft, Vandenberg, Stassen, MacArthur, Bricker, Warren, Eisenhower and Smo. Smo is the 1948 dark horse.

INTO THE OUTSTRETCHED ARMS of her uncle, Hirsch Greenbaum of Detroit, runs six-year-old Beila Rimmer, a war orphan. The tot, who arrived in New York aboard the S. S. Columbia, speaks only French which she learned from a family that hid her during the Nazi occupation. Her parents were deported to Poland by the Nazis.

House Committee Reports Out Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON, July 18—The house appropriations committee today approved $1,353,024,900 in funds for foreign relief, including the full 400 million dollars requested by President Truman for the Greco-Turkish aid program.

The committee reported to the house the final major appropriation bill of this session, which is slated to adjourn July 26.

THE BILL contains:

1. Three hundred million dollars for Greece and 100 million dollars for Turkey.
2. Three hundred and thirty two million dollars for the relief of war-devastated Austria, Greece, Trieste, Italy and China.
3. Five hundred and fifty million dollars for military government and relief in Germany, Austria, Japan and Korea. The administration had requested 725 million.

4. Seventy-one million twenty-four thousand dollars for American participation in the international refugee organization. The administration had requested seventy three and one half million.

THE COMMITTEE also took these actions:

1. Authorized Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to use such funds as were necessary to eradicate the foot and mouth disease in Mexico.
2. Failed to appropriate the twenty four million 900 thousand dollars requested by the administration.

IRVIN Eugene Trent, 22, Negro farmhand and alleged confessed slayer of his 23-year-old wife Ruby, bride of six months and expectant mother, Friday was ordered transferred from the Pickaway county jail to the Columbus state hospital for the insane, to undergo a period of mental observation.

In issuing the formal court order Common Pleas Judge William D. Radcliff specified that the observation period shall not exceed 30 days and that the institution shall submit its report as to Trent's mental status to the court.

Commitment of Trent to the state institution at Columbus, Judge Radcliff explained, was the result of the plea of not guilty by reason of insanity which was entered by Attorney Tom A. Renick, counsel for Trent, when the alleged wife-killer was arraigned in court, Thursday, under an indictment charging first degree murder.

A blast from a 410-gauge shotgun in her head snuffed out the life of Mrs. Trent on July 2 in the Trent farm tenant home two miles south of Derby. The alleged confession says that following the slaying he set the dwelling afire in the hope of concealing the murder.

NEW YORK, July 18—An irregularly lower move was made by the stock market in quiet forenoon trades today. A few issues were in mild demand but mostly fractional losses cropped out.

BRITISH BATTLE JEW ABOARD IMMIGRANT SHIP

One Man Reported Killed, Several Injured In Fight At Sea

JERUSALEM, July 18—A British flotilla of five destroyers and a cruiser shovied an illegal Jewish immigrant ship into Haifa harbor today at the end of a dramatic sea battle which cost one life and scores of injuries.

The ship was the 1,814-ton "European Exodus, 1947", formerly the American steamer President Garfield that was registered in Baltimore.

British destroyers intercepted the immigrant ship 17 miles off the coast of southern Palestine and sailors boarded it in the face of tear-gas, smoke-bombs and jets of steam while Jewish organizations raised the cry of "piracy".

FOR AT LEAST an hour following the leaking vessel's enforced arrival at Haifa, the 4,554 refugees aboard the largest single group that ever tried to break the British blockade against illegal immigrants—vigorously resisted disembarkation.

In a wireless message picked up by the Jewish underground army Haganah before, during or after the clash at sea, the ship's master reported his ship was "leaking" and requested aid in reaching Haifa.

When the destroyers overtook him, he made a vain attempt to beach his craft. The former President Garfield, built in 1928, flew blue and white Jewish flags when she ended her tempestuous voyage prodded by British warships at Haifa.

INITIAL REPORTS said one Jewish passenger was killed and 125 injured, 25 of them seriously, in the sea battle. Three British sailors were injured badly enough to need hospitalization.

Haganah called on the United Nations commission investigating Palestine to probe what it termed the British "piracy" and called for definite measures to prevent deportation of the liner's human cargo.

The Guatemalan delegate on the commission immediately demanded that an emergency meeting be held tonight to investigate the matter. First reports said that both the immigrant ship and two British destroyers sustained damage in the high seas battle.

INSPECTION FAVORED

WASHINGTON, July 18—The house labor committee today approved a resolution requiring four inspections of the nation's coal mines annually and direct reports to the federal bureau of mines.

Rudolph Hess Returns To Berlin As Prisoner

BERLIN, July 18—Rudolph Hess came back today to the Berlin where he once ruled almost supreme—and was presented with a sullen gray uniform and an identification number at grim old Spandau prison.

With six other Nazi war criminals who were sentenced to long terms by the Nuernberg war crimes tribunal, Hess was flown into bomb-battered Berlin and taken immediately to the jail which in the last few months has been repaired of its own bomb damage.

Hess, deputy leader of the

QUICK ACTION ON NLRB SEEN

Senate Slated To Start Hearings On Members Early Next Week

WASHINGTON, July 18—Swift senate action was forecast today on the appointment of three officials by President Truman to key jobs in the national labor relations board's administration of the new Taft-Hartley law.

The senate labor committee is expected to start hearings early next week on confirmation of former Democratic senator Abe Murdock of Utah and J. Copeland Gray, Buffalo industrial relations expert, to be NLRB members and Robert N. Denham to be NLRB general counsel.

THE HEARINGS probably will be brief in view of the congressional drive for adjournment. Immediate senate reaction favored the selection of Murdock but few senators were acquainted with the other nominees.

Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, asserted that "the President has named a fine board." He added: "I am especially happy over the appointment of former senator Murdock. His experience in the house regarding the national labor relations act is unequalled and his views in the senate gave him great familiarity with the work done by the NLRB."

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, labor committee chairman, declined to comment on the appointments.

OVERSTOCKING OF OHIO LIQUOR SUPPLY CHARGED

Dunifon's Disclosures Open Way For Possible Criminal Probe

COLUMBUS, O., July 18—State Liquor Director Dale Dunifon charged today that Ohio's liquor inventory had been overloaded by 24 million dollars and opened the way for possible criminal investigation of the alleged overstocking.

Governor Herbert's ace trouble-shooting director disclosed at a special news conference that he also would blacklist dealers and distillers who refuse to cooperate with the state in getting rid of excess stocks of slow-moving items.

A supply analysis of present inventories revealed estimates by Dunifon's aides showing that the department had, for example, a stock of Old Barter bourbon whiskey figured to last at the present rate of sale for 5,529 weeks or more than 100 years.

DUNIFON DECLARED that all the factual information he had gathered would be turned over to Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins and to the prosecuting attorney of Franklin county.

He refused to guess whether criminal negligence had entered into the overpurchases of some brands and types of liquors. He pointed out that turning over of the information at his disposal to the attorney general and the prosecutor conformed with the special senate liquor investigating committee's recommendation for a full grand jury investigation of the department.

In his lengthy news conference, the liquor director distributed to newsmen voluminous tables of statistics and photographs of department records to illustrate his points.

Of his threat to blacklist uncooperative dealers and distributors, Dunifon declared:

"As for those not willing to take back items of make satisfactory adjustments, nothing will be bought from those companies regardless of the brand or the company."

12 FAMILIES IN FLOOD AREA GET RED CROSS AID

W. L. Sprouse, chairman, Pickaway county chapter, American Red Cross, announced Friday that personnel of the local chapter and L. L. Mishey, field representative from national headquarters, are proceeding rapidly with relief work in the flooded areas. Assistance is being given on the basis of need, not losses.

Twelve families have registered for Red Cross assistance. Any families having disaster caused needs and needing assistance in rehabilitating themselves beyond their own resources may apply at the Red Cross office.

An emergency meeting of the executive committee was called Thursday night at which time the members of the committee voted to finance the entire relief operation from local chapter funds.

The executive committee wishes to express appreciation to the production crops who responded so efficiently to the call for making up sheets and pillow cases to be used for the disaster stricken families.

In another offer of assistance, Harold E. Sharpe said residents of the area near where the Hargus creek bridge was washed out may park their autos in his used car lot and thus avoid long detours. It is possible to cross the creek by foot but not in vehicles until a temporary bridge is erected.

He Was Duped?

APPEARING before the Senate Steel Committee in Washington, R. A. Ascher (above), a New York broker, declared he was duped into making a $3500 deposit in a "grey market" deal in steel. He accused another broker of producing an unauthorized letter, purportedly from a Surplus War Property official, which was supposed to "confirm" an order by the broker for 10,000 tons of scarce steel.

SOLON EXPECTS 'SHOOTING WAR'

Eaton Says U. S. Must Be Ready To Send Troops To Take Over Greece

WASHINGTON, July 18—Rep. Eaton (R) N. J., chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, declared today that we are "within sight of a shooting war in Greece." He added:

"We must be prepared to send our Army and Navy over there and take control if the Greek government is unable to halt the fighting that is now going on."

THE declaration by the Republican leader that the United States must be prepared for an armed conflict in Greece, if necessary, followed in the wake of a warning he gave the house rules committee that "we are within sight of a shooting war in Greece."

EATON ADVISED the rules committee that "if we move out, Russia will move in."

He subsequently told a reporter that "if it becomes necessary we'll have to send our Army and Navy over to Greece and take over."

He added: "How can we carry out our proposal to rehabilitate Greece unless we have an end to the shooting war that is now going on?"

EATON told the rules committee during consideration of a resolution to authorize a house investigation of foreign spending by this country that "Russia has taken off its mask at last."

LESS BUYING IN U. S. PLANNED BY CANADIANS

OTTAWA, Ont., July 18—Canada embarked today on a foreign trade program which will include less buying in the United States and more in the "sterling countries."

Trade minister James Mackinnon told the house of commons that the adverse trade balance with the United States is necessitated by the fact that the deficit in trade with the U. S. in the first four months this year was $303,000,000 and "mounting rapidly."

Mackinnon said he was "gravely concerned." He admitted the only way to stop Canadians from buying American goods would be to erect new tariff barriers. Earlier finance minister Douglas Abbott denied there was any plan to devalue the Canadian dollar, now officially at par with the U. S. dollar.

TRUMAN HINTS RUSSIAN FEAR BLOCKS SLASH

President Says Reduction Now Would Lead To Higher Prices

BULLETIN WASHINGTON, July 18—Senate Republicans conceded defeat in advance today on President Truman's second tax cut veto after the house overrode the chief executive's rejection of the GOP bill.

WASHINGTON, July 18—The house today overrode President Truman's second veto of the tax reduction bill, 299 to 108, a margin of 27 votes over the necessary two-thirds majority.

The four billion dollar tax slash measure then went to the senate, where a vote sustaining the veto by a slim margin is expected later this afternoon.

In rejecting the four billion dollar GOP tax cut the President told congress by strong inference that Russian refusal to cooperate for world stability makes such a reduction in government income risky and unwise.

The chief executive asserted also that the measure is "still the wrong kind of tax reduction at the wrong time."

OBVIOUSLY referring to the cold attitude of the Soviet Union and its satellites toward the Marshall plan for European recovery, Mr. Truman said: "The recent refusal of certain nations to join in common endeavors to establish conditions of world stability increases the (Continued on Page Two)

DEWEY CARRIES CAMPAIGN INTO HEART OF WEST

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont., June 18—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York carried his co-called non-political campaign for 1948 Republican convention delegates into the heart of the West today. And as he did, Dewey supporters said they were convinced the chief threat to his renomination as a presidential candidate lay in a potential Democratic party split.

Some Republican leaders told Dewey that creation of a third party spearheaded by ex-vice president Wallace, would enhance the chances of Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

The New York chief executive was informed he was not overly popular with some party leaders, but that even his most bitter GOP enemies admitted he was a vote getter.

As Dewey arrived in West Yellowstone, Mont., for a three-day tour of Yellowstone national park, reports were current of a boom for Eric Johnston, czar of the motion picture industry, for the 1948 GOP vice-presidential nomination.

Johnston, former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, is friendly with Dewey. As a voting resident of the state of Washington, Johnston would add geographical balance to the Dewey-headed ticket.

'COOL' WEATHER DUE TO ARRIVE HERE SATURDAY

By International News Service Ohioans can stop wiping their brows today and cross their fingers instead—the weatherman says it is going to be cooler tomorrow.

Of course, there first will be thundershowers this afternoon and tonight. Then, according to forecasters, the muggy south-east wind will shift to northwest, which is a much dryer and cooler place for the air to come from.

A high range of between 85 and 90 degrees was predicted for this afternoon, with a drop of between 65 and 70 degrees, tonight. The range tomorrow will be between 80 and 85 degrees, with much less humidity than during the last five days or more.

difficulty of our task and expenses to greater risk.

"Until we are better able to estimate the cost of our investment in world peace and collective security, it is unwise to make so large a cut in our government's future income that our ability to meet our needs would be impaired."

THE PRESIDENT declared that "there is still no convincing evidence that a recession is imminent," but argued that tax reduction now would "delay the readjustments of prices and wages" necessary to maintain high prosperity.

He insisted that a tax slash would increase the danger of recession and lead to higher prices for consumer goods.

Today's message largely reiterated the reasons for the veto contained in the first message. The President said that, if anything, the reasons that impelled him to veto the first tax reduction bill "are more compelling now than they were one month ago."

He said the bill is "unsound and unsafe."

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE, who last month rejected a bill which would have made tax slashes effective July 1, declared in his second tax veto message to congress that the new measure, which would bring the reductions next Jan. 1, is "not consistent with sound fiscal policy."

The senate is expected to sustain the President, killing any chance of tax reduction during the present session of congress.

Mr. Truman declared in his veto message:

"While business, employment and national income continue high, we should maintain tax revenues at level that will meet current expenditures and also leave a surplus for retirement of the public debt."

The President said that he is "unequivocally committed to the right kind of tax reduction at the right time."

But he added that such reduction must be based on a careful consideration of the whole tax structure in its relation to a balanced budget and adequate debt retirement.

AIR COLLISION NEAR WAUSEON KILLS COUPLE

WAUSEON, O., July 18 — An engaged couple met instant death but three Army flyers miraculously escaped serious injury today when an Army P-61 Black Widow collided 2,300 feet in the air with a light civilian plane and sent it crashing to the ground two and a half miles northwest of Wauseon.

The pilot of the civilian craft was identified as Walter W. Hyde, Jr., 23, Wellington, O., owner of the plane. His fiancée was Joanne Brouse, Wellington. The two victims had left Wellington for a weekend trip to the Michigan lake region a short time before the smashed ship and the two bodies were found on the farm of Peter Goldsmith. Two feet had been clipped from the wing of the light craft by the speeding Army night fighter.

EINSTEIN SAYS WORLD SETUP CAN KEEP PEACE

NEW YORK, July 18 — Prof. Albert Einstein has told the American people once again that there is no defense against modern weapons of war, and that only a world government can guarantee peace.

The famous mathematician said on a nationwide broadcast last night that the United Nations must be transformed into a voteless world government responsible only to the world's voters, and no longer controlled by national governments.

As a first step, he recommended support of resolutions introduced in congress last week which call upon President Truman to strengthen the United Nations so it can have power to enact, interpret and enforce world law.

Prof. Einstein said that Russia's hatred of foreigners and her policy of isolationism is a problem.

HUNGARY and Poland, the only Communist-dominated countries listed for relief assistance, were not mentioned by name, but it was learned that the eighteen million dollars eliminated had been tentatively allocated by the state department for use in those countries, three million dollars in Hungary and fifteen million dollars in Poland.

The committee merely referred to them as "certain countries" and said it was deleting the amount because they "have not shown a disposition to comply" with the requirements for American distribution of relief supplies.

Acheson informed the subcommittee that the already-troubled internal Greek situation existing at the close of the war "is now very much accentuated by the fact that Greece's northern neighbors, all of which are Communist controlled, began to exercise pressure on Greece looking toward the overthrow of the Greek government and the establishment of a Communist regime in Greece."

ACHESON testified three weeks ago, shortly before he left the state department to reenter private law practice.

Former President Herbert Hoover told the subcommittee during separate testimony that the present Russian attitude is "the stumbling block of all Europe."

The testimony of the former undersecretary of state and ex-president was given during consideration of one and one half billion dollars in funds for the Greco-Turkish aid program, relief to war-devastated countries, and Army occupation needs.

BALLISTICS MAY PROVE CAUSE OF PAXTON DEATH

Murder Or Suicide Verdict Depends On Bullet, Officials Say

Science of ballistics may prove whether Noah Vernon Paxton, 22-year-old Pickaway county farmhand and World War II veteran killed himself or was murdered.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff disclosed Friday that the checking of all clues had failed to provide the solution to the riddle of Mr. Paxton's death. He said he was awaiting the results of a ballistics test made at the Columbus police laboratory after the sheriff took to the experts there the 22-caliber bullet which was removed from Mr. Paxton's head during an autopsy ordered by Coroner Lloyd Jones.

The science of ballistics is aimed, primarily, to identify the specific weapon from which any particular bullet has been fired. It has served to convict scores of murderers.

PENDING THE completion of the sheriff's investigation—which includes the ballistics test—Coroner Jones has withheld a formal verdict in the case of Mr. Paxton.

The body of Mr. Paxton was discovered near midnight July 10 slumped in the front seat of his auto parked at the edge of a township road four miles north-east of Circleville in the area known as the "Devil's Backbone."

A 22-caliber rifle, containing one discharged cartridge shell and clutched by one of the victim's hands, was resting on Mr. Paxton's lap. In a glove compartment of the car Deputy Sheriff Carl Radcliff found a 22-caliber seven-shot revolver. It contained one live cartridge and the firing pin rested on a discharged shell.

County Prosecutor Kenneth Robbins said: "It looks like suicide."

cers found no suicide note and no suicide motive has been found.

If he committed suicide he must have used the rifle because he would not have had time to replace the revolver in the glove compartment.

The ballistics test, Sheriff Radcliff said, is expected to show whether the bullet which killed Mr. Paxton was fired from the rifle.

If the test fails to show this it will be almost certain proof that Mr. Paxton was slain and that he did not commit suicide.

Roy Paxton, brother of Mr. Paxton, said Friday that published reports that he and Mr. Paxton's wife, Mrs. Mary Paxton, were driving home when they found the body, was incorrect. The information contained in The Herald articles was obtained chiefly from the sheriff's department.

MORE INTEREST IN BOYS URGED IN ROTARY TALK

Plea for greater interest in the welfare of boys was voiced by Pat McGuire, Columbus, one time Pickaway county school teacher, who told members of the Rotary club following a noon luncheon, Thursday in the Pickaway Arms, that home environment is the biggest thing in the life of a boy.

Backed by 30 years of experience working with boys, the speaker declared that adults should strive to keep "boy level" ideas, that among millions of boys in the nation no two are exactly alike, and that fathers should be "pals" to their sons.

McGuire said that more than 330,000 American boys are now enrolled in boys' clubs throughout the country. He said that boys should be "taught and not frightened."

DID I PAY THAT BILL?

DID I GET A RECEIPT?—WHERE DID I PUT IT?

He is in the predicament in which many have found themselves,—having just received a bill for an account which he thought he had paid! As he pays bills in cash, and does not file and keep receipts over a period of time... he is unable to prove payment.

When you pay BY CHECK—you HAVE a receipt

It is a wiser, safer and more business-like plan to employ cash for smaller everyday needs, and to pay all important obligations by check drawn on this bank. MORE money from lower bacteria count because of these McCormick-Deering features
... Yet LESS time for care and cleaning!

(Above) No oil is needed for this smooth-working pulsator—so, there's no danger of oil contaminating the milk.

(Above) Stainless steel head has 4-inch curved radius to permit speed and ease in brushing and cleaning.

(Above) Test cup assembly and fasteners are designed for rapid rinsing and washing, are not fastened to pul head.

(Left) Stainless steel pul has large 9-inch opening that makes a quick job of cleaning and inspection.

(Right) Inside surface of the crown, stainless steel pul is as smooth as glass—no welded, overlapping seams. Pul bottom has 3/4-inch radius, too.

• Notice how often stainless steel construction is mentioned as part of the McCormick-Deering Milker? The only metal the milk touches is this smooth, polished steel. Bacteria don't lodge on its surface. There is no rusting or corrosion to give bacteria a home. Rubber is the only other material through which milk passes.

If you're interested in improving the standards of cleanliness in your dairy—in cutting down bacteria count to build up the size of your milk check—then stop in at our place now for full details on how a McCormick-Deering Milker can save you both time and money. We can make immediate delivery.

DOCUMENTS OF FREEDOM

THE SO-CALLED "Freedom Train" will start on its long journey of a year or more through all the 48 states of the Union on September 17, 1947, in Philadelphia. It is appropriate that the start be made in that city, which was the seat of government when some of the most famous of the papers to be shown were written.

Many of the important documents of our great heritage will be on the train for all to see. Needless to say, every possible measure is being taken to keep them safe. It is the chance of a lifetime for citizens and their children to see with their own eyes such documents as the Declaration of Independence, a copy of the Constitution with notes by George Washington, the Emancipation Proclamation and others illustrating the development of freedom through our history as a nation.

The exact plans for the trip have not yet been finally decided, but they will be announced in plenty of time for all to know about them. In fact, motion picture trailers will go through the towns a few weeks in advance of the train. A powerful documentary film highlighting the American heritage will be shown in all theatres.

It is not only an opportunity to see the papers, but also for America to rededicate itself, through the resolution of every individual citizen, to the strong purpose of maintaining our freedom and of helping to extend such privileges as we possess to all nations of the world.

EDEN SINGS OUT

PREDICTING that funds lent by the United States and Canada would run out by the end of the year, Anthony Eden, speaking in the House of Commons recently, said that when that happened Britain's only recourse would be their gold reserve. As to the Marshall plan he had this to say: "If this offer should encourage continuation of our present wholly artificial basis for refusing to face the facts, then the breathing space it may give us will prove to be rather less than a blessing. We cannot afford to become the permanent pensioners of the U. S. A. We have a role of our own to play as a great empire."

These words have a fine, ringing sound, in the midst of all the hedging, the backing and filling, and the bristling truculence of some European leaders. Eden's speech represents the true spirit of Britain. Independence and self-reliance, along with a fighting spirit, have brought the right little, tight little island through many bad times, and may be counted on to bring it through this one.

There are too many citizens in this country who think they have a divine right to exercise a veto on everything they don't like.

Antiquated Reporter:

Home to see the village in a great downpour of rain. As I remembered it. Noted the block-off of Lancaster pike and learned of a torrent taking out the Hargus creek bridge and other great damage including a fatality charged to the weather. Phone ringing as I entered the house. Jim Stout extending greetings. George came up and told how the rains have played heck with things about the farm.

A full day of travel from Windsor. Stopped only briefly at customs. "Buy anything in Canada?" was the greeting. "Nothing except an appendicitis operation," was the reply. "No duty. Go ahead," and that was that. Skirted Detroit out past the River Rouge plant, did an end run around Toledo and on to Fostoria for lunch. Came back 23 for I wished to see Upper Sandusky again in the summertime. The ones who laid out that village really had an eye to beauty and the future. Great parkways on each side of the streets, houses far back and well apart. In my opinion one of the prettiest small towns in America.

Then through Delaware, Worthington, Columbus and straight south. The closer I got to home the safer I felt. Had intended staying another day or two in Toronto, but Monday night came a storm, lightning hit the hotel and put the elevators out of commission. After climbing seven flights of stairs just once did call the clerk and ask that the bags be taken down. We were checking out.

Canada is behind now for another year. Canada and its jammed hotels, its terrible food, its stumpy water that the Canadians insist is coffee, Canada and its great fishing waters, its great forests, its superb vacation spots. Right now I have no desire to go back, but I know that come another Spring the region will call me once more.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, July 18—Union big man John Lewis' new coal economy for another bigger round of prices and wage increases seems to have some economic relation to a new brand of socialism advocated by the AFL economic survey for July. The survey howls in top headline: "high prices threaten workers' jobs and living standards." Then at the end it furnishes what it calls "the way out."

The way out, says the AFL, is "consumer cooperation" and it adds: "consumer cooperation means cooperative ownership of a business. Every member is a part-owner. . . We must start at once to organize as consumers. . . We cannot afford to wait. . . Write the federation for information on cooperatives and credit unions and names of official representatives of these two movements to advise you."

Now let's see. Let's understand this. Consumer cooperation is cooperative ownership of a business, eh? That, of course, is Socialism. Moreover it is a different advanced type of Socialism than that which the British unions have imposed on Britain. The British government bought the business there with government bonds, and as is the normal case when the government owns anything, no one owns it. A union member would find this out if he tried to get his share of the business.

This new AFL Socialism is not state Socialism but union ownership. The unions start factories for shoes, clothing or even automobiles, maybe. Immediately this breaks its own union monopoly of the work in the privately owned shoe, clothing or automobile factory. In work and price then, AFL would compete with its own members, for the purpose of underselling them and making their business unprofitable. If AFL was successful, their members would lose the private ownership jobs they have now.

Now the high prices of which they complain are certainly too high. But one reason they are high is because AFL has forced greater wage increases on the management (really the public) every year for the last few years. Every wage increase they got forced another price increase. They have discovered that due to the high prices they have caused, the union worker frequently is really no better off economically than before wage increases. So now AFL comes up with a plan to own the business. Lewis of course has just increased costs and prices again by an inestimable hundreds of millions of dollars a year with his latest jump of 45 cents an hour, plus a private union tax of 10 cents on every ton of coal, and many more privileges. If Lewis succeeds in making the coal business unprofitable, he could really buy it cheap, because no one would want it. But instead of the miners getting more money, then they would get much less because their business made no money.

When the union government got the businesses in England, the first thing they did was to up wages again. This increased prices again. But still they could not get production. Socialist England had to borrow money from us and now is trying to borrow more to buy from us things she should be producing for herself. One such thing is coal. She has plenty underground but her Socialism will not produce it at the low price which the Socialists are always promising but never get.

AFL does not want this. AFL knows this clearly would cause reduction in wages and

DIET AND HEALTH

Don't Neglect Kidney Trouble

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE work of the kidneys is so important to the whole body that no disorder affecting them can be safely neglected.

One of the most common of such conditions and one which can occur at any age is pyelitis, or inflammation of that part of the kidney where the urine collects before it empties into the bladder.

How Germs Are Carried

Germs causing the inflammation may be brought to the kidney from some other part of the body through the blood stream or they may pass upwards from the bladder. But in either case, according to Dr. Joseph C. Birdsall of Philadelphia, they do not usually become entrenched in the kidney itself unless there is some blocking in the urinary tract, that is, either in the bladder or in the tubes which lead to it from the kidneys.

A diagnosis of pyelitis is made by such symptoms as a burning sensation when the bladder is emptied, and frequent emptying of the bladder. Fever is often present. An examination of the urine shows the presence of many white blood cells.

Any Age

Pyelitis may occur in persons of any age. It is more frequent in girls than in boys. In such cases, the disorder usually starts with chills and fever, and the temperature may go as high as 102 to 106 degrees. Sickness to the stomach and vomiting are often present. Constipation or diarrhea may also occur in older children.

In adults, when pyelitis occurs,

there usually is some inflammation also of other parts of the kidney. This condition tends to occur especially during pregnancy or during child-bearing time.

Complete Rest

In treating pyelitis, the patient should be put to bed at complete rest and given a diet containing no highly seasoned foods. He should be given plenty of fluids by mouth, and if necessary the fluids may be injected under the skin. Constipation, if present, should be corrected. Frequent emptying of the bladder and sweating should also be encouraged. Hot, wet packs and the use of aspirin are helpful, according to Dr. Birdsall.

A search should be made for any infection in the teeth, tonsils or sinuses, and such infections, if found, should be cleared up since they may be contributing causes for the pyelitis.

Various Drugs

Various drugs may be used to overcome pyelitis, depending upon the type of germ producing the difficulty. For example, mandelic acid is used for bacillus or infection due to bacilli. Sulfonamide drugs and penicillin are helpful in those infections which are produced by streptococci and staphylococci.

An X-ray examination may be made to determine if there is some blocking of the flow of the urine due to a kidney stone or other cause. If such a condition is found, operative treatment may be required to get rid of it. If it is not treated promptly and thoroughly, pyelitis is likely to recur and may become a chronic or long continued disorder.

WHEN HONORS ARE BEST

MANY players place a greater value on high honors when they are in the suit that is bid. More experienced and observant devotees of the game have learned that in several definite respects the honors can be more useful when they are elsewhere, so long as the suit named contains adequate stoppage. If naming it should cause partner to try No Trumps.

a winning finesse against the Q. Two clubs and one diamond added up to only 11 tricks. South was unable to build up any play against West, such as a squeeze or throw-in, so was obliged to stake everything on the diamond finesse. When it lost, he was down.

Where South opened with his heart suit at Table 1, he had no trouble. West cashed the spade A, then led another spade, and it was all over but the shouting. Hearts were finessed right because of the double, spades furnished discards of three diamonds, and there was a trump left in the dummy to ruff the third club. West was bitterly disappointed to find the heart A sitting over his Q. He expected to find both of the top honors at his right, since South bid the suit first, and didn't think he would even need his minor suit honors to set it.

As a consequence of this, they got into an unmakeable contract in No Trumps, even after West's double told South how to play the heart suit. Four spade tricks, four in hearts because of

CHAPTER NINETEEN

ALONG THE path from the house came Sir Henry Angkatell and Midge Hardcastle, talking and laughing together.

At the sight of the group around the pool, Sir Henry stopped short, and exclaimed in astonishment: "What's the matter? What's happened?"

His wife answered, "Gerda has—she broke off sharply. 'I mean—John is—'"

Gerda said in her flat, bewildered voice: "John has been shot . . . he's dead."

They all looked away from her, embarrassed. Then Lady Angkatell said quickly: "My dear, I think you'd better go and—lie down. . . Perhaps we had better all go back to the house. Henry, you and M. Poirot can stay here and—wait for the police."

"That will be the best plan, I think," said Sir Henry. He turned to Gudgeon. "Will you ring up the police station, Gudgeon? Just state exactly what has occurred. When the police arrive, bring them straight out here."

Gudgeon bent his head a little and said, "Yes, Sir Henry." He was looking a little white about the gills, but he was still the perfect servant.

The tall young woman said, "Come, Gerda," and putting her hand through the other woman's arm, she led her unresistingly away and along the path toward the house. Gerda walked as though in a dream. Gudgeon stood back a little to let them pass and then followed, carrying the basket of eggs.

Sir Henry turned sharply to his wife.

"Now, Lucy, what is all this? What happened exactly?"

Lady Angkatell stretched out vague hands, a lovely helpless gesture. Hercule Poirot felt the charm of the appeal.

"My dear, I hardly know. . . I was down by the hen, I heard a shot that seemed very near, but I didn't really think anything about it. After all," she appealed to them all, "one doesn't! And then I came up the path to the pool and there was John lying there and Gerda standing over him with the revolver. Henrietta and Edward arrived almost at the same moment—from over there."

She nodded toward the farther side of the pool, where two paths ran up into the woods.

Hercule Poirot cleared his throat.

"Who were they, this John and Gerda? If I may know," he added apologetically.

"Oh, of course," Lady Angkatell turned to him in quick apology. "One forgets—but then one doesn't exactly introduce people—not when somebody has just been killed. John is John Christow, Dr. Christow, Gerda Christow is his wife."

"And the lady who went with Mrs. Christow to the house?"

"My cousin, Henrietta Savernake."

There was a movement, a very faint movement from the man on Poirot's left.

Henrietta Savernake, thought Poirot, and he does not like that she should say it—but it is, after all, inevitable that I should know. ("Henrietta!" the dying man had said. He had said it in a very curious way. A way that reminded Poirot of something—of some incident . . . now, what was it? No matter, it would come to him.) Lady Angkatell was going on, determined now on fulfilling her social duties.

"And this is another cousin of ours, Edward Angkatell. And Miss Hardcastle."

Poirot acknowledged the introductions with polite bows. Midge felt suddenly that she wanted to laugh hysterically; she controlled herself with an effort.

"And now, my dear," said Sir Henry, "I think that, as you suggested, you had better go back to the house. . . I will have a word or two here with M. Poirot."

Lady Angkatell looked thoughtfully at them.

"I do hope," she said, "that Gerda is lying down. Was that the right thing to suggest? I really couldn't think what to say. I mean, one has no precedent."

What does one say to a woman who has just killed her husband?" She looked at them as though hoping that some authoritative answer might be given to her question.

Then she went along the path toward the house. Midge followed her. Edward brought up the rear.

Poirot was left with his host. Sir Henry cleared his throat. He seemed a little uncertain what to say.

"Christow," he observed at last, "was a very able fellow—a very able fellow."

Poirot's eyes rested once more on the dead man. He still had the curious impression that the dead man was more alive than the living.

He wondered what gave him that impression.

He responded politely to Sir Henry:

"Such a tragedy as this is very unfortunate," he said.

"This sort of thing is more in your line than mine," said Sir Henry. "I don't think I have ever been at close quarters with a murder before. I hope I've done the right thing so far."

"The procedure has been quite correct," said Poirot. "You have summoned the police and until they arrive and take charge, there is nothing for us to do—except to make sure that nobody disturbs the body or tampers with the evidence."

As he said the last word he looked down into the pool where he could see the revolver lying on the concrete bottom slightly distorted by the blue water.

The evidence, he thought, had perhaps already been tampered with before he, Hercule Poirot, had been able to prevent it.

But no—that had been an accident.

Sir Henry murmured distastefully:

"Think we've got to stand about? A bit chilly. It would be all right, I should think, if we went inside the pavilion."

Poirot, who had been conscious of damp feet and a disposition to shiver, acquiesced gladly. The pavilion was at the side of the pool farthest from the house and through its open door they commanded a view of the pool and the body and the path to the house along which the police would come.

The pavilion was luxuriously furnished with comfortable settees and gay native rugs. On a painted iron table a tray was set with glasses and a decanter of sherry. "I'd offer you a drink," said Sir Henry, "but I suppose I'd better not touch anything until the police come—not, I should imagine, that there's anything to interest them in here. Still, it is better to be on the safe side. Gudgeon hadn't brought out the cocktails yet, I see. He was waiting for you to arrive."

The two men sat down rather gingerly in two wicker chairs near the door so that they could watch the path from the house.

A constraint settled over them. It was an occasion on which it was difficult to make small talk.

Poirot glanced around the pavilion, noting anything that struck him as unusual. An expensive cape of platinum fox had been hung carelessly across the back of one of the chairs. He wondered whose it was. Its rather ostentatious magnificence did not harmonize with any of the people he had seen up to now. He could not, for instance, imagine it around Lady Angkatell's shoulders.

It worried him. It breathed a mixture of opulence and self-advertisement—and those characteristics were lacking in anyone he had seen so far.

"I suppose we can smoke," said Sir Henry, offering his case to Poirot.

Before taking the cigarette, Poirot sniffed the air.

French perfume . . . an expensive French perfume.

Only a trace of it lingered, but it was there, and again the scent was not the scent that associated itself in his mind with any of the occupants of The Hollow.

As he leaned forward to light his cigarette at Sir Henry's lighter, Poirot's glance fell on a little pile of match boxes—six of them—stacked on a small table near one of the settees.

It was a detail that struck him as definitely odd.

"Half past two," said Lady Angkatell.

She was in the drawing room with Midge and Edward. From behind the closed door of Sir Henry's study came the murmur of voices. Hercule Poirot, Sir Henry and Inspector Grange were in there.

Lady Angkatell sighed.

"You know, Midge, I still feel one ought to do something about lunch. . . . It seems, of course, quite needless to sit down around the table as though nothing had happened. But after all, M. Poirot was asked to lunch—and he is probably hungry. And it can't be upsetting to him that poor John Christow has been killed, like it is to us. . . . And I must say that though I really do not feel like eating myself, Henry and Edward must be extremely hungry after being out shooting all the morning."

Edward Angkatell said, "Don't worry on my account, Lucy dear. You are always considerate."

Edward. And then there is David—I noticed that he ate a great deal at dinner last night. Intellectual people always seem to need a good deal of food. Where is David, by the way?"

"He went up to his room," said Midge, "after he had heard what had happened."

"Yes—well, that was rather tactful of him. I daresay it made him feel awkward."

One-Minute Test
1. In what town did Jesus' friends, Mary, Martha and Lazarus live?
2. Where did Moses receive the Ten Commandments?
3. Where did Moses die?

Words of Wisdom
Women are self-denying and unkind; men are self-indulgent and outspoken; and this is the key to a thousand double misunderstandings, for good women are just as stupid in misunderstanding men as good men are in misunderstanding women.—Charles Reade.

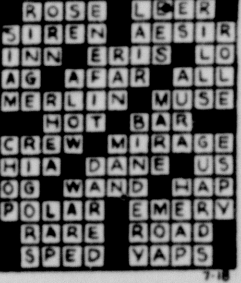

Hints on Etiquette
People are always asking etiquette editors what such and such a wedding anniversary is called, so as to give appropriate gifts. This is the list: First year, paper; second, cotton; third, leather; fourth, silk; fifth, wood; sixth, iron; seventh, tin; eighth, glass; ninth, porcelain; tenth, silver; eleventh, steel; twelfth, gold; thirteenth, pearls; fourteenth, flowers; fifteenth, diamonds.

Today's Horoscope
Yours is a fastidious nature. You like to dress well and appear always at your best. You are original, studious, and like and appreciate art. Your disposition is generally sweet, and although you sometimes lose your temper, you quickly recover it. You are affectionate and loving, and your home is very dear to you. The day is good for outside interests, partnership affairs, and where past performances are concerned. Let well enough alone. Your next year, in spite of an element of sadness in the latter part, will bring domestic harmony, pleasant friendships, increased finances and a sense of well-being. Today's child will develop a bright, happy, optimistic personality, especially if born early in the day. Artistic, musical and psychic abilities are also foreseen.

Mt. Sterling Youth Hurt In Auto Accident Shooting Victim

ROBERT WITTICH DIES OF BULLET WOUND IN HEAD

Boy Was To Undergo Surgery As Aftermath Of Car Crash Last Winter

Funeral arrangements instead of surgery preparations were being made Friday for Robert Wittich, 17, Mt. Sterling.

The youth was to have entered a Columbus hospital, Friday, to undergo an operation to relieve the results of a head injury he sustained last November in an automobile accident in which a friend was killed.

Robert succumbed Thursday night in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, to a bullet wound in his head suffered accidentally Thursday afternoon at the farm home of his uncle Tom Reed, on Deer creek, south of Mt. Sterling near the Franklin-Madison county line.

Dr. John H. Richardson, acting coroner of Franklin county, returned late Thursday night a formal verdict of death by accident. The acting coroner announced that an investigation had disclosed that the youth had been target shooting with friends, that he went into the house alone to get a drink of water, that he was shot accidentally, and that there were no eye witnesses to the shooting.

THE BODY was removed to the E. T. Snyder funeral home at Mt. Sterling where funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Thursday's fatal shooting of Robert was a tragic aftermath of a traffic accident eight months ago on State Route 277, four miles south of Mt. Sterling, when he and five friends were speeding in an auto to the scene of a fire. Robert was seriously injured in the crash which took the life of Ross McKinley Looftburrow, 17, and inflicted serious injuries on Harold Reay, 17, both of Mt. Sterling.

A few seconds after Robert walked into his uncle's cottage Thursday, his companions heard a pistol shot. Robert staggered through a rear doorway and collapsed. He was removed to the hospital at Columbus but attempts to save his life were futile.

Survivors include his father, Roderick Wittich, Sr., one sister, and two brothers.

KING OF HOBOES TO HELP FIGHT NEW LABOR LAW

TOLEDO, O., July 18 — Foes of the Taft-Hartley labor law got a vigorous assist today from Jeff Davis, king of Hoboes of America, Inc.

The colorful knight of the road told more than 400 members of the Toledo central labor union last night that "we of labor have to talk more about our friends and our cause and always patronize organized markets." He added:

"If you won't do it then the hobo will go to bat for you because if the government sues us, what can they get we haven't got anything."

"But don't forget, if government expects to regulate labor through the Taft-Hartley law, then that same government should be able to regulate our food prices with other legislation."

Davis recounted his 47 years in labor and, pointing to his bald head, said it was acquired from "hired thugs who tried to break up my union."

Davis declared that "the world conference of hobo was held in the house of parliament in London in 1938. Surely, if a bunch of bums can gather in parliament, you labor people can win your fight against the Taft-Hartley labor law."

1,000 FEDERAL WORKERS OUSTED FOR DISLOYALTY

WASHINGTON, July 18 — A civil service commission report showed today that 223 federal workers have been fired and possibly more than 1,000 others forced out on disloyalty charges in the nine-month period ending April 1.

The report, submitted to the house civil service committee, said a partial survey of government agencies revealed the 223 known ousters and said the final figure for the period may be upward of 1,000.

The actual firings took place in six agencies—war, navy, agriculture, commerce, labor and the veterans administration.

The committee was informed that 190 persons found disloyal were civilian employees of the Army, in one of four military areas. The commission said that the Army had furnished only partial information and suggested that to arrive at a representative figure for disloyal employees of the war department, the 190 figure should be multiplied by four.
